FOR RESTAURANTS

4 things your restaurant website needs

Someone is standing outside deciding whether you're open. Your site should answer first.

1. Hours and phone at the top
2. The menu as a page, not a PDF
3. Your own reservation line
4. Your name on a page you own

RESTAURANTS

1

Hours and phone at the top

Put tonight's hours and your number in the header, before the photo of the dining room.

2

The menu as a page, not a PDF

Dishes as text on the page can be read on a phone and updated when the fish changes.

3

Your own reservation line

Tell people how you take bookings: phone, WhatsApp or a link, in your own words.

4

Your name on a page you own

Keep your name, address and menu on your own page, so a search can lead to you.
